

White House Gets 200 New Books

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of the nation's booksellers came to the White House today bearing gifts—200 new books for the presidential library.

The titles ranged over a wide list of subjects from science to children's books. There were no real Westerns, for which President Eisenhower has a liking. But there was a volume by Tommy Armour, "How to play your best golf all the time."

In the collection, too, were the memoirs of former President Harry Truman and a three-volume biography of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Every four years since 1929, the booksellers have been adding to the White House library. The presentation was made today by H. Joseph Moulthau of Lexington, Ky., president of the Assn. of Booksellers. He was accompanied by his young son, Thomas.

The books were received on behalf of the President by Eisenhower's scientific adviser, Dr. James R. Killian.

Killian caught sight of "Atomic Conquests," by Arthur Holley Compton, and remarked: "Nice to see that one."

Queen Honors Trio on New Years List

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth II honored a Negro boxing champion, a ballet dancer and a scientist today in her annual New Year's honors list.

Hogan (Kid) Bassey, 25 year old world featherweight champion, was made a member of the Order of the British Empire. He is a Nigerian who came to England six years ago.

She also bestowed the Order of Commander of the British Empire on ballerina Alicia Markova and sculptress Barbara Hopworth and the highest feminine order, Dame of the British Empire, to novelist Rose Macaulay.

She bestowed knighthood on William R. J. Cook, the scientist who commanded forward operations in Britain's Christmas Island hydrogen bomb tests last summer. Cook, 52, is deputy director of the Atomic Energy Authority's atomic weapons research establishment. The Queen presented the rank of officer of the Order of the British Empire to another sports figure, Dai Rees, captain of the British Ryder Cup team that took the golf trophy away from the United States for the first time in 24 years.

In all the Queen named 108 persons prominent in public affairs, business, the arts, science, education and sports. Mostly it was a routine list despite recent discreet criticism in the press that royal accolades had become overly dull.

Missouri Closes Hunting Season

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Missouri's 70-day waterfowl hunting season shuts down at sunset tonight, ending what conservation Commission specialists called one of the best hunting periods in recent years.

Missouri hunters also had generally good success in the quail season that ended Tuesday.

Best of the waterfowl hunting again was in the northern half of the state. Ducks and geese migrated south in several well-spaced flights and commission field men estimated there were about half a million birds in the state throughout most of the season.

Hunting success in the southwestern part of the state declined because of a reduction in the number of ducks and geese in that area. And floods about mid-way in the season hampered hunters in the southeast. There was so much water that the birds were widely dispersed.

Early field reports indicated there were good numbers of quail in the fields and an increased amount of moisture this past fall made better working conditions for pointers and setters.

FOWL MIX-UP—Although the song says that fish gotta swim and birds gotta fly, there's nothing like an ambitious turkey to foul things up. Turkeys generally keep away from deep water, but this unusual bird is the exception to the rule. The gay gobbler has a fine time as he cruises with some friendly white geese at a fish camp near Jacksonville, Fla.

Man Found Dead Under Rail Bridge

PRINCETON, Mo. (AP)—A 20-year-old Jamaica, N. Y., man was found dead today under a railroad bridge near Mill Grove, Mo.

The victim was Albert Newman. It was not immediately determined whether death resulted from all in from the cold. The temperature dropped to 10 degrees below zero here this morning.

His brother John, 17, was treated for frozen feet and ears.

The younger brother reported they had ridden a Rock Island freight train to Mill Grove, en route to California to look for jobs. They went to a store at Mill Grove to get warm. John said his brother left after about two hours, saying he was going to wait near the tracks.

He apparently had tried to cross on a bridge under construction and had fallen about 20 feet.

Howard Chandler Christy, world-famous artist, was born in Morgan County, Ohio, in 1873.

"Hardware is my Business"

"To me the satisfaction of supplying people with quality merchandise and service is the outstanding reward of running a hardware store. There are high industry standards for the tools, appliances and supplies that I handle, and in selecting merchandise for my customers, I make sure that my stock meets these rigid requirements. To keep people reminded of my store and services and to announce new merchandise, I use newspaper advertising regularly. It's an effective way to send the news about my store to the people in this community."

All businessmen are aware of the standards of quality, weight and measure that are used in evaluating the merchandise which they buy and sell. It is also possible to buy newspaper advertising on the basis of definite standards, namely, the information in the reports of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative, nonprofit association of 3,575 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Its purpose is to provide advertisers with audited information about the circulation of its publisher members.

At regular intervals the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is a member, sends an experienced circulation auditor to make a thorough inspection and audit of our circulation records. The FACTS thus established are published in an A.B.C. audit report which tells you: How much circulation we have; where it goes; how obtained; how much people pay for our paper; and other FACTS that you need in order to KNOW what you get for your advertising money.

This newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

Advertisers are invited to ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

tions from the banner of the impossible perfect life. The few who do adhere to their resolutions throughout the year improve their character, and are better for it, but as long as everybody doesn't follow, their example the nation is safe.

But what if everybody resolved at the same time to go on the water wagon, save his money, buy nothing except for cash, and then only what he actually really needed? The American economy would crash in three months, and by 1959 we'd all have to take in each other's washing to earn a living.

What if every office Milquetoast in the land decided at the same time to be firm and decisive? There'd be so many wrong decisions made no business could endure.

What if everyone in America decided on the same day never to say another unkind word to anybody, no matter what the provocation? With nobody having any hurt feelings none of us would have any reason for self-pity. In three weeks we'd all run shrieking into the woods out of sheer boredom.

What if every husband pledged himself to bring fresh flowers home to his wife once a week in 1958? In 10 weeks, half the wives from Manhattan to Los Angeles would be bed-ridden with acute cases of suspicion. The other half would be sitting in the anterooms of detective agencies, waiting to hire a private eye to check up on the family breadwinner.

What if every wife should simultaneously — ? Well, never mind that worry. The imagination cannot conceive a situation in which all women behaved the same way at the same time.

The greatest safeguard of civility never do the same thing at the same time — even during our present purity binge.

The best thing to do if you have a friend in the grip of an impossible self-improvement crusade is to send him a get-well card, and wish for nature to take its course. When it's all over, everybody will feel better.

Miss Sue Burke Complimented With Kitchen Shower
Miss Sue Burke, bride elect of James H. Roe of Dallas, Texas, was honored with a Kitchen Shower Saturday afternoon, Dec. 28 by Miss Judy Watkins in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Watkins.

Miss Burke wore an angora, trimmed lime wool sheath on which she pinned the Debutante Camellia corsage given her by the hostess.

Seasonal decorations were prominent throughout the Watkins home. Centering the tea table was a brass scale containing red grapes and purple dawn camellias. Clusters of grapes and camellias on each end of the beam accented the rope of green beads draping the scales and caught at its base by a single camellia.

Mrs. W. C. Woodward, Jr. and Mrs. Fred Glanton, sisters of Miss Burke, assisted the hostess and her mother in serving cakes and tea.

Twenty three friends were present to enjoy the opening of the lovely gifts with the honoree. Among them were Mrs. Jesse C. Burke and Mrs. James H. Burke of De Ann and Mrs. Woodward of Magnolia.

Only 55 Polio in State Past Year
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Only 55 cases of polio were reported in Arkansas this year compared to 222 in 1956, the State Board of Health said today.

In 1957 there were 25 cases of paralytic and 30 cases of non-paralytic polio. Three deaths occurred during the year, the board said.

The figures for 1956 were 130 paralytic, 76 non-paralytic and 11 deaths.

Reed gave his views on the 1937 act, which gives the commission certain powers for regulating sale of new automobiles in Arkansas, in letters he mailed to attorneys connected with two suits.

The suits were filed to test constitutionality of the law, Act 530. In the letters to the attorneys, Reed asked them to prepare a decree for him to sign. Edwin E. Dunaway of Little Rock, one of the attorneys for plaintiffs, said such a decree would be presented within two weeks.

The judge's letter did not say why he was holding the act invalid, but Dunaway said the decree would contain a number of points contesting it.

In 1955, the Legislature passed a similar act which resulted in a court test and the Arkansas Supreme Court ruled the Law unconstitutional.

The commission was disbanded until the 1957 act brought it into being again.

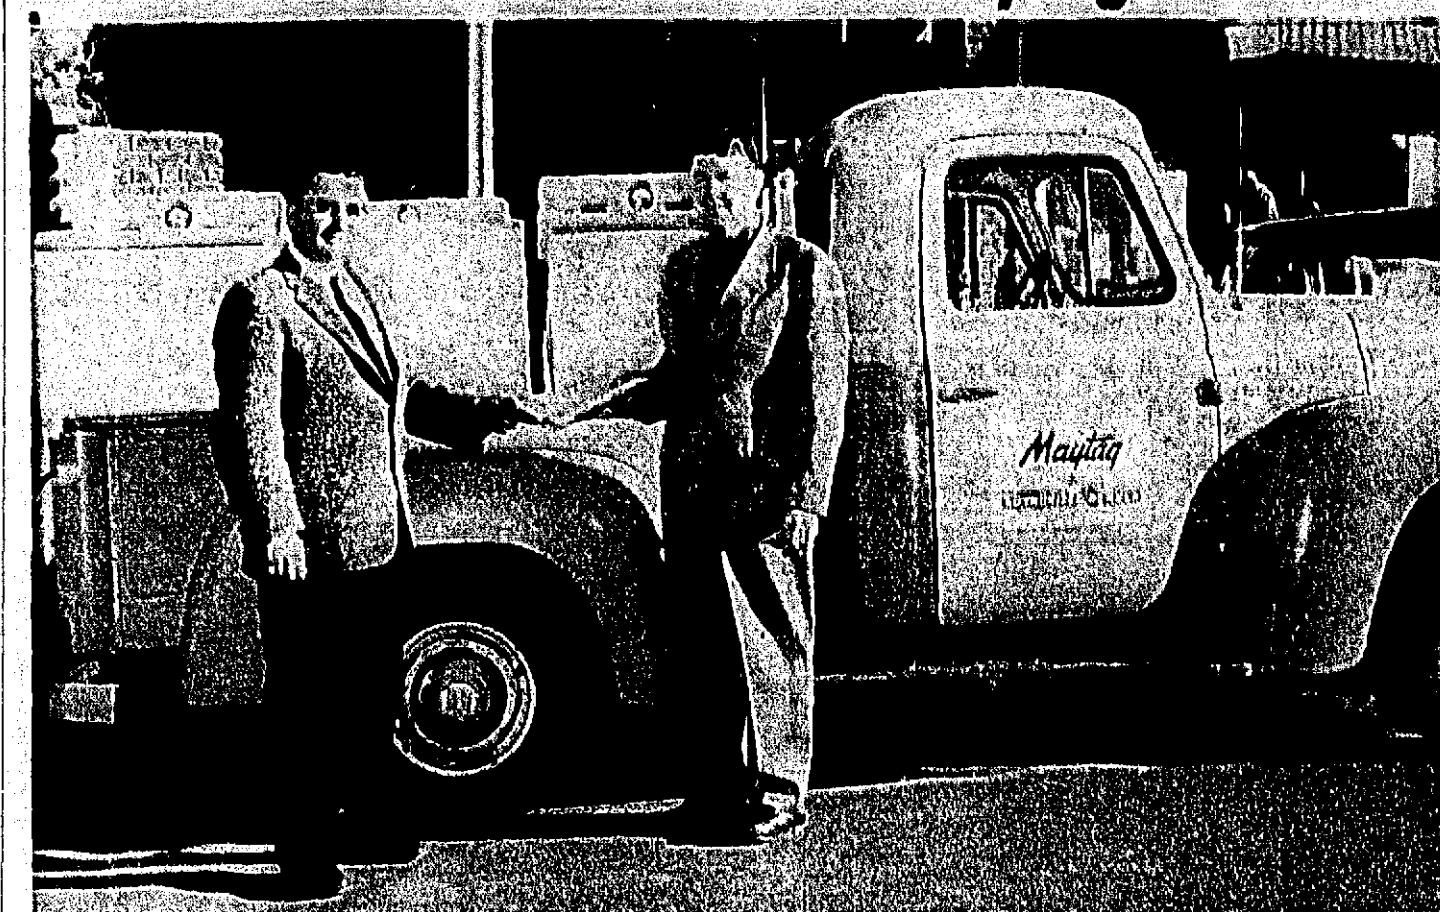

Robert Shulls, an attorney for the defendant commission in the suits, said yesterday that the case probably would be appealed to the state supreme court.

report to Justice officials. The inquiry was to determine if there had been a conspiracy to obstruct justice by preventing the carrying out of a federal court integration decree.

The FBI report never has been made public. Justice Department officials have indicated that if further disorders occur, involving the same persons, the department would take another look at its "mark time" policy.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus says he is willing to see if the federal government changes its attitude on school integration before he decides whether to call a special legislative session to deal with the issue.

The governor said yesterday that there would be no reason for a special session if the government takes a new look at the problem and slows down school integration.

Nine Negro students are enrolled at Little Rock Central High School, focal point of the integration crisis here. They attend classes under the protection of federalized Arkansas National Guardsmen.

The Little Rock School Board was ordered by U. S. District Court to start integration last fall, Faubus said recently that he thought the board ought to consider going back into federal court to seek a delay in integration.

He made that statement after an appellate court permitted a delay in school integration at Dallas. Earlier this week the school here told its attorneys to study the Dallas decision but it gave no indication of what course will be pursued.

Auto Vehicle Commission Ruled Invalid
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pulaski Chancellor Murray O. Reed has held unconstitutional an act creating the Arkansas Motor Vehicle Commission and has granted an injunction which prohibits the commission from enforcing the law's requirements.

Reed gave his views on the 1937 act, which gives the commission certain powers for regulating sale of new automobiles in Arkansas, in letters he mailed to attorneys connected with two suits.

The suits were filed to test constitutionality of the law, Act 530. In the letters to the attorneys, Reed asked them to prepare a decree for him to sign. Edwin E. Dunaway of Little Rock, one of the attorneys for plaintiffs, said such a decree would be presented within two weeks.

MEMPHIS MUTNIK—Ready for take-off, "Firelight," who may be the American answer to Russia's "mutnik," seems set for a trip to the moon or any place else in outer space. Firelight, an Airedale, is being trained by Memphis citizens George King and Sonny Schmidt, in their private plane, in case Uncle Sam ever does decide to shoot a dog-satellite into space. Firelight's outfit consists of tiny red football pants and a red jersey a parachute harness, plus goggles and earphones.

Baby Is First Responsibility Let Your Husband Go to Work

Dear Dorothy Dix: My 21 year old husband, a student at the university, will be graduated in June as an engineer. We've been married seven months, and expect our baby in about eight weeks. We've been living rent-free with my folks who have been wonderful to us. Our problem is the baby. I'd like to go to work after it's born to help my husband finish his schooling, but in that case, would have to leave the baby with my mother. Mom and Dad are very old-fashioned; they don't agree with new trends in baby care, hygiene, or to be perfectly frank — with cleanliness. Mom says the way she raised her five children is still good, but she'll not accept the blame for the three who died in infancy. If I don't work we'll have to borrow money for my husband's education. Which would be better? To leave the baby and worry about it all the time, or borrow the money?

Dear Linda: The baby comes first. His health and welfare now supersede your husband's education, your comforts and conveniences. Stay home with your child, borrow the money for your husband's schooling or have him finish the course at night, getting a job during the day. Your parents may be well intentioned, but they certainly wouldn't carry out the doctor's orders.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Fred and I are engaged. Recently we had occasion to visit a town 100 miles away. My cousin was invited to the same get-together. She assumed she would drive up with Fred and me, but he didn't ask her. She had to go by train, and has been very cool and stand-offish to me ever since. Who was wrong in this case, and what could have been done to save the situation?

Deep Snow Slows Polar Expedition

AUCKLAND, New Zealand (AP) — Deep snow again brought the New Zealand Antarctic party's tractors to a halt on the polar plateau Tuesday night. The four-man party, attempting the second overland journey to the South Pole, was forced to lighten its load by leaving behind some of its food and other supplies.

Sir Edmund Hillary radioed Scott Base, his camp near McMurdo Sound, that at one time "it appeared as if the tractor train had reached the end of the road."

Just over 100 miles of polar plateau now lie between the party and the pole.

A laborious 12 hour haul Tuesday night covered only 22 miles. Hillary is returning the route followed by Capt. Robert C. Scott in the first overland trip to the South Pole in 1911. Scott and his party died on the return trip and no one has made the crossing since.

Soviet Soldiers on Duty in E. Berlin
BERLIN (AP) — Russian soldiers have suddenly been called out for duty in East Berlin.

The soldiers are guarding border crossing points between East and West Berlin, and patrolling main streets.

It was the first time since the 1953 anti-Communist uprising of June 17 that Russian soldiers have patrolled the Soviet sector of Berlin.

West Berlin border guards told newsmen they had heard a rumor the Russians were called out to intercept several Soviet officers or soldiers who had deserted from their units somewhere in East Germany.

The Western guards said the Russians appeared on the Soviet side of the border last night. The Soviet side is normally guarded by German police.

Newport Collision Leaves One Dead
NEWPORT, Ark. (AP) — An automobile and a trailer truck side-swiped near here early today, injuring one person fatally and three others in the car seriously.

E. W. Parker, 16, of Hoxie, died in a hospital here about two hours after the accident.

State Trooper Don Wilcox identified the others hospitalized as Charles Lee Erwin, 18; Mrs. Mary Ingram, 20, and Billy Walker, 20, all of Hoxie. None was believed critically hurt.

The truck driver, Ulysses McClellan, 30, of St. Louis, was not injured.

Wilcox said the accident occurred at 12:20 a.m. on U. S. Highway 67 about seven miles north of Newport. The occupants of the car were returning to Hoxie from Augusta, he said.

Elvis Cause of Draft Board Resignation
HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — A draft board official in this southeastern Kentucky coal mining town resigned today because he wants mountain boys to get the same treatment accorded Elvis Presley.

State Rep. H. Nick Johnson, 37, year-old wounded veteran of World War II, said a recent induction deferment granted the Memphis, Tenn., teen-age idol made it impossible for him to serve as a member of Local Board 35.

Johnson said if the deferment given Presley, so he could produce another movie "is a criterion on which the Sputnik and Mutnik age isn't as serious as representative."

"I cannot conscientiously ask any mountain boy to serve the same country unless afforded the same treatment," said Presley, Johnson said in his written resignation.

U. S., Soviet Talks Asked by Khrushchev
By HAROLD K. MILKS
MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has called again for U. S. Russian talks to settle the world's problems.

In a New Year's toast to President Eisenhower, the Communist party boss renewed Soviet efforts to negotiate with top U.S. officials and without American allies at the table.

Khrushchev told foreign diplomats at the big Kremlin New Year's banquet: "If the Soviet Union and the United States can get together and can reach agreement, most of the world's problems would be solved."

The United States has rebuffed earlier proposals for such talks, preferring to include at least some of its allies in top-level conversations with Russia.

U. S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and his wife went to Khrushchev's table after the toast and drank with party boss, Premier Nikolai Bulganin and President Klement Voroshilov.

Highway Worker Fatally Injured
NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A state Highway Department worker was injured fatally yesterday near North Little Rock when his automobile crashed a barbed wire fence and pinned him against a truck.

Dead was Allen Matthews, 62, of North Little Rock. Officers said the car was driven by Mrs. Carolyn McLaughlin, 20, of this city.

Thought for the day
It is the opinion of those who best understand the physical system, that if the physical laws were strictly observed from generation to generation, there would be an end to the frightful diseases that cut life short and of the long list of maladies that make life a torment or a trial and that this wonderful machine, the body, this "godly temple," would gradually decay, and men would at last die as it gently falling asleep — Mrs. Sedgwick said it.

152 Set to Tee Off at Los Angeles
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 1958 winter golf trail opens for traffic today with a field of 152 set to tee off in the 32nd Los Angeles Open.

Playing the Rancho Municipal Course for the third straight year, the Los Angeles event as usual attracted most of the nation's name professionals and a young army of lesser lights, anxious to hit into the $35,000 purse money and the headlines.

Rancho measures 7,170 yards when stretched out to its full length and par is 36-35-71. Doug Ford won the 1957 attraction.

Three-tempered Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., led all other pros with a 6-under-par 65 in yesterday's pro-celebrity event. Bolt picked up 6 birdies and 12 pars during the round and got $400 for his trouble.

Seeks to Get Bowl Kickoff Advanced
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Television and radio rights for the Orange Bowl's silver anniversary game next year are under negotiation today. Kick-off time and a price tag for the package are two major points being discussed between officials of the Orange Bowl and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Stuart W. Patton, chairman of the Orange Bowl committee on TV and radio, said he expects negotiations to be completed this month.

Patton said CBS wants the Orange Bowl kickoff advanced to 12 p.m. (CST) to avoid conflict with the Cotton Bowl game, which CBS also carries.

The kickoff used to be 1 p.m. but for Wednesday's game it was advanced to 12:45.

Indications are the Orange Bowl won't be able to get as much for the TV and radio rights as it has in the past three years—$275,000 a year—but Patton was optimistic.

The Orange Bowl already has renewed its contract with the Big Eight to provide a team for the next three years, but the contract with the ACC was not renewed.

The other team will be selected on the open market. Oklahoma will be able to return next year if it wins the Big Eight crown as expected, under a special provision making the Sooners eligible for the silver anniversary game. The Big Eight normally prevents the same team from appearing two years in a row.

Baseball to Decide Rights in New York
NEW YORK (AP) — Is New York an "Open city" for any National League team that might want to move in? Or do the Yankees have exclusive rights?

Commissioner Ford Frick and a four-man committee will wrestle with questions like that today when they start to explore the territorial problems of baseball. The shifts of the Giants and Dodgers to California spotlighted the muddled situation.

A committee appointed by Mayor Wagner to try to bring a National League team to New York has been assured by Frick that it will find the city "open."

There were hints from Cincinnati last weekend that owner Powell Crosley Jr. was thinking of moving his Redlegs. Crosley said the opinion among National League owners seemed to be unanimous that it should maintain a team in New York.

Frick and his four-man committee will try to spell out in positive terms the territorial rights situation for all time and for all cities. It is believed they will work some deal so that a large city can have two teams without violating the rights of the club already operating in the city.

Under so-called baseball law, the circuit of either major league cannot be changed to include any city in the other circuit except by the unanimous consent of the clubs in both leagues.

Chamberlain Draws Ahead of Scorers
NEW YORK (AP) — Will (The Still) Chamberlain, Kansas' one-man gang, has put some space between himself and his persistent pursuers in the major college individual basketball scoring race.

Chamberlain opened up his lead with a brilliant display—an average, according to statistics released today by the NCAA, his closest challenger is Cincinnati's sophomore sensation, Oscar Robertson, who is putting them in at a 28-6 pace.

Pittsburgh's 6-8 1/2 sharpshooter, Don Henson, who held the individual lead in the last accounting, had to settle for 67 points in three games in the New York Holiday Festival and dropped to fourth place with a 27.9 mark. Leo Dwyer, the public is invited.

Big Leagues Are Hard to Battle With
By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After a decade of negotiations, college baseball leaders have about decided you can't fight city hall — or the big leagues.

This was learned today as officials of the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches opened a week-long series of meetings.

The baseball coaches showed an aggressive stand they took a year ago. The National Collegiate Athletic Assn., which set up a committee to study college-pro relations after receiving strongly worded recommendations from the baseball coaches, has virtually broken off negotiations with the major leagues.

The principal cause of contention is that professional clubs have persisted in signing college players before their eligibility has been used up. An agreement that no college player could be signed after the start of his sophomore year was voided by the majors last year and recently they jettisoned the controversial bonus rule. A wave of new signings followed.

The college coaches insist this is shortsighted, cutting off the development of major league material, and is akin to the television invasion of territory which has hurt minor league baseball.

Kansas, Without Wilt, Drops One to Okla. State

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press
Take Wilt Chamberlain out of the lineup and Kansas can be beaten — although not easily.

That's what some folks have been saying all along and Oklahoma State proved them right last night, knocking the second-ranked Jayhawks from the ranks of basketball's unbeaten with a 52-30 overtime decision.

Chamberlain, the nation's leading scorer with a 32.2-point average, was sidelined by a groin injury. He is expected to be ready for Kansas' Big Eight opener next Tuesday against Oklahoma.

Top-ranked West Virginia got a measure of revenge in whipping Canisius 80-66 for its ninth straight. Canisius was the last team to defeat West Virginia. That was in the regional final of NCAA play last spring in Madison Square Garden.

The books were closed on the major holiday tournaments as the Citadel defeated Spring Hill 67-55 in the final of the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., and Harvard employed a zone defense to good advantage for a 55-49 defeat of defending titlist Amherst in the championship game of the University of New Hampshire Invitational.

The four-team NAIA Midwest Tipoff Tournament got under way at Macomb, Ill. Tennessee State routed Hamline 106-97, and Western Illinois turned back William Jewell 72-58. Tennessee State, 1957 NAIA champion, and Western Illinois meet for the title tonight.

In posting its seventh straight victory since an opening loss to Kansas, Oklahoma State took a 28-23 halftime lead and never trailed except briefly at the start of the overtime when Monte Johnson's free throw gave the Jayhawks a 50-49 edge. Roy Carberry soon put the Cowboys back in front with a field goal and then added a free throw.

A string of 10 straight points within a minute and 38 seconds midway through the second half broke the West Virginia-Canisius game wide open. At the time the Mountaineers spurred, the Griffins had pulled within three points, 50-47.

Citadel's Bulldogs trailed Spring Hill by 11 points after 12 minutes. Then they settled down and gave a fine display of defensive ball as they took the lead shortly before the half and held command throughout the second period. Florida State defeated Georgia 92-85 for third place.

Harvard's 2-3 zone defense curbed the effectiveness of Amherst's Bill Warren as the Crimson chafed up their eighth victory in nine starts. Warren got only 11 points. Springfield defeated New Hampshire 67-60 for third place.

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain sat on the bench last night and watched Oklahoma State beat his Kansas teammates 52-30—the Jayhawks' first basketball loss this season.

Kansas held the lead only once — with 2:40 remaining—but managed to force the game into overtime at 49-49. The extra period also was a first this year for the Jayhawks, ranked No. 2 nationally.

It was Kansas on Dec. 2 that put the blemish in Oklahoma State's otherwise perfect record. 68-56, Chamberlain scored 32 points in that one. Kansas now has a 6-1 season record while the Cowboys are 7-1.

Chamberlain, the Jayhawks' 7-foot mainstay, is sidelined with an inflammation resulting from a groin bruise he got in a recent game at Philadelphia. He is expected to be available Tuesday when Kansas opens its Big Eight Conference season against Oklahoma at Norman.

Ron Loneski and Minto Johnson, both 6-5, alternated in Chamberlain's center post. Loneski was high for the game with 18 points. Eddie Sutton carried the load for Oklahoma State with 13 points, but it was Roy Carberry who scored the Cowboys' points in the overtime period on a follow shot and a free throw.

A free throw by Johnson gave Kansas a brief 50-49 lead in the extra period. Carberry's basket with 2:35 left made it 51-50, and he added the last point on a free throw.

Kansas made its first field goal with 5:50 gone in the game and trailed 18-7 at one point. Oklahoma State held a 28-23 halftime edge.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Television and radio rights for the Orange Bowl's silver anniversary game next year are under negotiation today. Kick-off time and a price tag for the package are two major points being discussed between officials of the Orange Bowl and the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Stuart W. Patton, chairman of the Orange Bowl committee on TV and radio, said he expects negotiations to be completed this month.

Patton said CBS wants the Orange Bowl kickoff advanced to 12 p.m. (CST) to avoid conflict with the Cotton Bowl game, which CBS also carries.

The kickoff used to be 1 p.m. but for Wednesday's game it was advanced to 12:45.

Indications are the Orange Bowl won't be able to get as much for the TV and radio rights as it has in the past three years—$275,000 a year—but Patton was optimistic.

The Orange Bowl already has renewed its contract with the Big Eight to provide a team for the next three years, but the contract with the ACC was not renewed.

The other team will be selected on the open market. Oklahoma will be able to return next year if it wins the Big Eight crown as expected, under a special provision making the Sooners eligible for the silver anniversary game. The Big Eight normally prevents the same team from appearing two years in a row.

Baseball to Decide Rights in New York
NEW YORK (AP) — Is New York an "Open city" for any National League team that might want to move in? Or do the Yankees have exclusive rights?

Commissioner Ford Frick and a four-man committee will wrestle with questions like that today when they start to explore the territorial problems of baseball. The shifts of the Giants and Dodgers to California spotlighted the muddled situation.

A committee appointed by Mayor Wagner to try to bring a National League team to New York has been assured by Frick that it will find the city "open."

There were hints from Cincinnati last weekend that owner Powell Crosley Jr. was thinking of moving his Redlegs. Crosley said the opinion among National League owners seemed to be unanimous that it should maintain a team in New York.

Frick and his four-man committee will try to spell out in positive terms the territorial rights situation for all time and for all cities. It is believed they will work some deal so that a large city can have two teams without violating the rights of the club already operating in the city.

Under so-called baseball law, the circuit of either major league cannot be changed to include any city in the other circuit except by the unanimous consent of the clubs in both leagues.

Chamberlain Draws Ahead of Scorers
NEW YORK (AP) — Will (The Still) Chamberlain, Kansas' one-man gang, has put some space between himself and his persistent pursuers in the major college individual basketball scoring race.

Chamberlain opened up his lead with a brilliant display—an average, according to statistics released today by the NCAA, his closest challenger is Cincinnati's sophomore sensation, Oscar Robertson, who is putting them in at a 28-6 pace.

Pittsburgh's 6-8 1/2 sharpshooter, Don Henson, who held the individual lead in the last accounting, had to settle for 67 points in three games in the New York Holiday Festival and dropped to fourth place with a 27.9 mark. Leo Dwyer, the public is invited.

Big Leagues Are Hard to Battle With
By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — After a decade of negotiations, college baseball leaders have about decided you can't fight city hall — or the big leagues.

This was learned today as officials of the American Assn. of College Baseball Coaches opened a week-long series of meetings.

The baseball coaches showed an aggressive stand they took a year ago. The National Collegiate Athletic Assn., which set up a committee to study college-pro relations after receiving strongly worded recommendations from the baseball coaches, has virtually

Kansas, Without Wilt, Drops One to Okla. State

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Take Wilt Chamberlain out of the lineup and Kansas can be beaten — although not easily.

That's what some folks have been saying all along and Oklahoma State proved them right last night, knocking the second-ranked Jayhawks from the ranks of basketball's unbeaten with a 52-30 overtime decision.

Chamberlain, the nation's leading scorer with a 32.2-point average, was sidelined by a groin injury. He is expected to be ready for Kansas' Big Eight opener next Tuesday against Oklahoma.

Top-ranked West Virginia got a measure of revenge in whipping Canisius 80-66 for its ninth straight. Canisius was the last team to defeat West Virginia. That was in the regional final of NCAA play last spring in Madison Square Garden.

The books were closed on the major holiday tournaments as the Citadel defeated Spring Hill 67-55 in the final of the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., and Harvard employed a zone defense to good advantage for a 55-49 defeat of defending titlist Amherst in the championship game of the University of New Hampshire Invitational.

The four-team NAIA Midwest Tipoff Tournament got under way at Macomb, Ill. Tennessee State routed Hamline 106-97, and Western Illinois turned back William Jewell 72-58. Tennessee State, 1957 NAIA champion, and Western Illinois meet for the title tonight.

In posting its seventh straight victory since an opening loss to Kansas, Oklahoma State took a 28-23 halftime lead and never trailed except briefly at the start of the overtime when Monte Johnson's free throw gave the Jayhawks a 50-49 edge. Roy Carberry soon put the Cowboys back in front with a field goal and then added a free throw.

A string of 10 straight points within a minute and 38 seconds midway through the second half broke the West Virginia-Canisius game wide open. At the time the Mountaineers spurred, the Griffins had pulled within three points, 50-47.

Citadel's Bulldogs trailed Spring Hill by 11 points after 12 minutes. Then they settled down and gave a fine display of defensive ball as they took the lead shortly before the half and held command throughout the second period. Florida State defeated Georgia 92-85 for third place.

Harvard's 2-3 zone defense curbed the effectiveness of Amherst's Bill Warren as the Crimson chafed up their eighth victory in nine starts. Warren got only 11 points. Springfield defeated New Hampshire 67-60 for third place.

Lawrence, Kan. (AP) — Wilt Chamberlain sat on the bench last night and watched Oklahoma State beat his Kansas teammates 52-30—the Jayhawks' first basketball loss this season.

Kansas held the lead only once — with 2:40 remaining—but managed to force the game into overtime at 49-49. The extra period also was a first this year for the Jayhawks, ranked No. 2 nationally.

It was Kansas on Dec. 2 that put the blemish in Oklahoma State's otherwise perfect record. 68-56, Chamberlain scored 32 points in that one. Kansas now has a 6-1 season record while the Cowboys are 7-1.

Chamberlain, the Jayhawks' 7-foot mainstay, is sidelined with an inflammation resulting from a groin bruise he got in a recent game at Philadelphia. He is expected to be available Tuesday when Kansas opens its Big Eight Conference season against Oklahoma at Norman.

Ron Loneski and Minto Johnson, both 6-5, alternated in Chamberlain's center post. Loneski was high for the game with 18 points. Eddie Sutton carried the load for Oklahoma State with 13 points, but it was Roy Carberry who scored the Cowboys' points in the overtime period on a follow shot and a free throw.

A free throw by Johnson gave Kansas a brief 50-49 lead in the extra period. Carberry's basket with 2:35 left made it 51-50, and he added the last point on a free throw.

Kansas made its first field goal with 5:50 gone in the game and trailed 18-7 at one point. Oklahoma State held a 28-23 halftime edge.

Explorer's Wife Studies Geography

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Studying geography at college comes in handy when you become the wife of an explorer, says Tay Thomas, wife of Lowell Thomas Jr.

The junior Thomases are following in the footsteps of Lowell's famous father, exploring the far corners of the earth together and helping out on production and filming of the current Lowell Thomas TV series High Adventure.

"Tay's a great traveler," says Lowell Jr. "We plan to take as many trips together as possible as soon as the children are a little older. Right now our little girl, Anne, is 2 and Lowell III is 6 months."

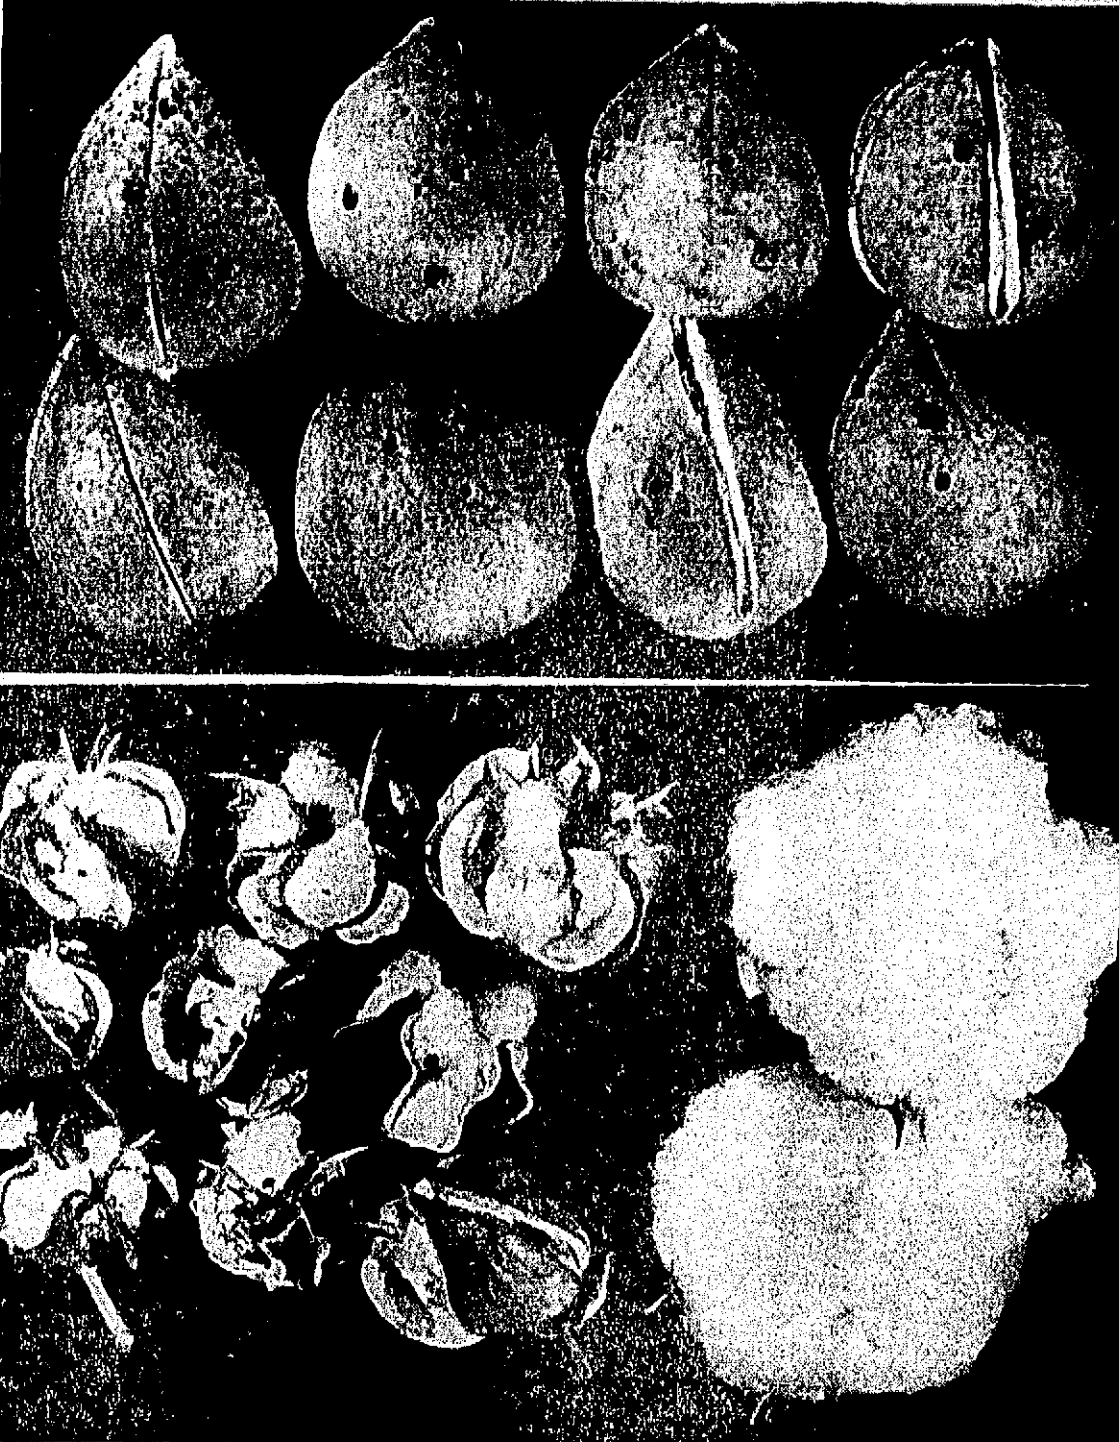

"We took our greatest trip in 1954—sort of a delayed honeymoon. We took a whole year and traveled all over Africa and the Middle East in our own airplane. We did a little work too filming a TV series called 'Our Flight to Adventure'."

"We carried sleeping bags and four days' food supply on each leg of the trip. We used the plane for big jumps and then set off on foot to explore the country."

"We took some chances during part of the trip, flying over the Himalaya Mountains, on a course where there were no airways, no radio, and no weather reporting. In a single-engine plane. But we were lucky, and Tay said she didn't mind if I didn't."

Lowell Jr. is a former instructor in the Air Force, and still flies his own private plane on lecture tours around the country. He has been well schooled by his adventurous father, having started his globe-trotting career at the age of 15 when Lowell Sr. arranged for him to accompany a movie camera man on a trip to South America with the U.S. Navy in 1939.

Pink Boll Worm Is a Cotton Killer

JANUARY 31 is the deadline for farmers to destroy all cotton stalks, bolls and locks in this area in accordance with the Arkansas State Plant Board's fight against the Pink Boll worm.

The above pictures show what the boll worm can do. The pink larvae enters the green boll (top picture usually at the base, as soon as eggs are hatched). The larvae feed in the boll until fully developed, a process of two weeks, then leaves the boll through exit holes shown in this picture. In some instances the boll is completely destroyed.

The bottom photo shows damaged bolls and normal bolls. Note exit holes in carpal walls of damaged bolls. For details concerning stalk destruction contact your county agent.

THE STORY: As Ward Sebastian takes his mule train into Yreka, he runs afoul of Provo Holt and Yancey McCloud two men he has no use for. Ward was wounded on the trail by another man, not one of the Modoc warriors who have been attacking settlers.

Yancey's answer was another cut of the rope and this time it spat across his shoulders, the impact solid and hurtling, even though the thickness of his heavy, blanket-lined coat. Edgy from fatigue and pain and harsh memories, he knew a fresh gust

Ratings Fail to Bother a Few Programs

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — There are a few fortunate TV programs which continue year after year regardless of trends and ratings. The Bob Cummings Show is one of these.

Luke Ozzie and Harriet and Burns and Allen, Bob's show continues on its merry way without interruption. Next Tuesday he is laughing into his fifth year with the weekly gambol in which he plays a photographer with an eye for the glamour dolls.

There are several reasons for the show's success. Foremost is the fact that Bob is one of the top light comedians in the business. And the show is a clever combo of sex and comedy. Plus which Bob can benefit from the mistakes of his first adventure, a ridiculous caper called "My Hero."

After that show was dropped, I was as read as you can possibly get in show business," he recalled. "I sat in my agent's office one day and heard a top producer tell him on the phone that nobody would buy me. Being out of work, I accepted the State Department's invitation to go on a good will mission to Argentina."

While he was down there, a top-flight comedy writer, Paul Henning, came up with the idea for a new show for Bob. The idea clicked, and overnight Bob was a hot star again.

"I learned some lessons from 'My Hero,'" he said. "Although the new show was sold in August, I wouldn't go on the air until January, when we had a comfortable backlog. We had gone right on TV with 'My Hero' and were constantly on a deadline, so we had to grab at every script that came along, good or bad."

"I also resolved that we wouldn't aim at the kid audience. Sure, it's easy to develop a following that way, but kids are the most fickle audience in the world. Once they drop you, you're finished forever."

"So we aimed at the adults. But strangely enough, we started to develop a strong kid following anyway."

Captain Jack and mebbe 60 Modoc braves, then, as one of these here noble palefaces I figger I got little to brag about. Matter of fact, I'm getting smaller by the minute."

Sam went along to Molly MacGruder's boarding house, farther up Oregon. Sebastian turned down a road to a big, square building with a galleried porch reaching all across the front of it.

Sebastian climbed the porch steps, paused short of the door to shake the worst of the wet from himself.

Abruptly two hurrying figures climbed to the shelter of the porch. A girl's bright and breathless laughter lifted, followed by a man's wry comment.

"This may be all stirring adventure to you, Connie, but for a lot of discomfort in a world filled with very foul weather."

The girl laughed again. "Wasn't it field duty both you and Phil were howling for, Judd? Don't tell me you're losing your taste for it already!"

Ward Sebastian followed them into the big combined store and trading post, and at the near end of the counter, laid down his rifle and saddlebags. Several customers were lined at the counter and old Ben Stiles had left his high stool and ledger desk to help Jeff Cheebro take care of them. The officer and the girl paused at little apart, waiting their turn.

Sebastian shrugged out of his coat, drawing a long breath of relief when finally free of its weight. In maneuvering his left arm he worked with care. Even so, his lips tightened under the bite of a sudden twinge of pain.

With bent head and carefully probing fingers he explored the bandanna which bandaged the arm. It was stiffened with dried blood.

The animals eared for, Dan Or cut and his two men, went off about their chores. Sebastian and Sam Lester stood for a little time under the wide overhang of the feed shed.

"Not having cut eyes," said Sam, "I couldn't see that far in the dark. But I heard Yancey McCloud cussin' and I heard you warn him about something. Right after which he quit his cussin' sudden as though his wind pipe had been cut. Any thing happen out there by the corral gate I should know about?"

Sebastian told it briefly. "When he took another cut with the rope and reached me, I bounced my knuckles off his teeth."

"He's become a curly dog," Sam growled. "Did he hit the bad arm?"

Sebastian's fingers explored gingerly. "Never touched it. Lucky for me. Lucky for him, too, maybe."

They went up Oregon Street which, in spite of the night, the raw wind and the steady rain which had begun to fall again, settled with a lively activity. Heavy freight and supply wagons, horse-drawn canvas top drummings in the wind, lumbered by.

Working their way through the crush, Sam Lester made sure that they already got scattered around back at the lake, just to corral

Nixon Gets New Jet for Trips

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Nixon will have a record-breaking Air Force jet transport available for his use on official trips.

The plane, a modified transport version of the Boeing KC135 jet tanker, is the same craft in which Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay set new records in November on flights to and from Buenos Aires.

Nixon will use the four-engine plane, which travels 600 miles an hour, as a time saver on his flights to various parts of the country. He also may use it, if he flies to Europe later this year as tentatively planned.
